- “The Abundant Hope” Chronicles:

- The Abundant Hope—that we put our trust in him. He is our inheritance; and we can always think of him, and our bodies will rest securely. Because he is at my right hand, we will not be shaken, and we can delight in the saints, and the lines will be falling in pleasant places. Because of this abundant hope, he will show us the path of life and in his presence is the fullness of joy. We are called to reign with him, and he expands our borders. And we know that we can receive a rhema word and that the winds of change will be there for us. So, we have the abundant hope.
- Father God, we trust in you tonight in the sanctuary because you are our inheritance, and it is you that we put our trust in. Because your righteous people like Jeff and Caleb and Calle are always thinking of you, Lord, they will not be shaken during their recovery. Their bodies, no matter the circumstances, will rest securely in the healer, who is you, Lord Jesus. Oh Father, Oh Lord, you smile gleefully as you delight in your saints such as Jeff, Caleb, and Calle. As your mighty men of God, have been obedient to do your work, the lines have fallen for all three men in a pleasant place. There is an abounding hope in your promise of healing, Lord as you show your godly men the path of life. We declare tonight that in your presence is the fullness of joy because these men walk with you. Here the word of the Lord, “You are called to reign, mighty men of God. Expand your borders of your ministries and a rhema word will follow. The winds of change will bring renewed strength to your callings. Arise, oh men of God, and do all I have called you to do,” saith the Lord.
- Lord God, in thee do we put our trust. You alone are our inheritance, and our thoughts are always with you. Because you are at our right hand, we will not be shaken. Our bodies also rest securely in you. Lord, we delight in being counted as your saints. As we have been obedient to your word, the lines have fallen for us in pleasant places, filling us with abounding hope. You open our eyes to show us the path of life, which leads to your presence in which there is fullness of joy. Lord, we understand we are called to rule and reign with you. So, we ask that you would expand our borders and let your rhema word flow to usher in the winds of change in Jesus’ name.

- Father, in our time of trouble, we will put our trust in you. In our time of need, we will find our inheritance. Because of your great love, we were always thinking of you. In your presence at our right hand, we will not be shaken, for our soul and our body find the security of rest in you. Father, we understand that your boundary lines have fallen for us in pleasant places, for this is your desire for your saints. In your presence, we find the fullness of your joy through the abounding hope you have placed within us to show us the path of life set before us. Father, only when you decide through your rhema word and the wind of change, will we move as you expand those borders so the kingdom of heaven may be promoted to the world.
- I look to you tonight, Lord, for in thee do I put my trust. You are my inheritance now and through eternity; and I set my heart and mind to be always thinking of the Lord. Because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken as my body also rests securely in the shelter of your mighty hand of provision. Your word says, “We delight in the saints” so I do this from a place of your excellent greatness over me. The lines have fallen for me in pleasant places as I look to you for abounding hope in my situation. I know that you will show me the path of life as I find that in your presence is fullness of joy. I am called to reign, so I ask you to expand his borders and my borders beyond my current circumstances as you birth your rhema word in me and then breathe life on it through your winds of change to move it forward. In Jesus’ name, amen.
- Prophetic word from Dan Hanselman: This is for Calle, Stephen List, and New Life. Isaiah 45:2-3: “I will go before you and I will level the mountains. I will break down gates of bronze and cut through bars of iron. I will give you the treasures of darkness, riches stored in secret places, so that you may know that I am the Lord.” And then I had it wrote: the treasures are the souls of men. For the seeds that you have sown that have not come up yet, they are struggling. But I am shining my light on them and sending my rain to soften the ground. So, look not at what is not there, but look at what the future is, what you planted that seed in the ground for. Look to it and see it sprouting. See it grown and see the harvest that it will bring forth. For there is resurrection life in that seed. It is not dead, but it's alive and germinating. So, arise and watch it grow as never before, for the time of harvest is soon to come. And be ready. Strengthen your hands, strengthen your hands so that you can swing the sickle into the grain and bring it into my store house says the Lord.
- Alan Smith prayed: Lord Jesus, we do ask and pray that the seed as they're struggling to come out of the ground that your rain would rain upon these seed. That the sun would shine upon them and bring heat unto the seed of your truth. That they might sprout and that they might grow; might sprout and grow and be healthy. That your word might run. Lord, I just see seeds sprouting; I see runners running like green bean runners. I pray that your word would just run all over this county, Wilkes County, Iredell County. I pray, oh God, for a revival type spirit. Lord, I'm just sensing not just a pop, snap, crackle, pop. I'm just sensing that the revival spirit in your people, that our faith would arise; that we would be more in touch with the kingdom than we are the world. That we're in the world, but not of the world; that we would be more kingdom conscious; that we would be more relative to the kingdom of God in this world. But Lord, I pray that we will get so saturated in your kingdom, that when we pass from this body, when we leave this earthly body, it will just be a little step into heaven. Because we're almost there before that day. In Jesus’ name.
