- “Bless Ye the Lord” Chronicles:
 - Bless the Lord, all the saints in the sanctuary of New Life. May we this day be the light that shines in the darkness, as our lives would bless the Lord and His lost people. We as your people will rejoice and shout the victory, because we are blessed forever, because of the cross of Jesus. We lift our hands and praise the Lord. Our glorious redeemer, and the God of the whole earth. The awesomeness of you, Lord, will remind us that you bless the whole world because you created the entire world. Let us hear from God as he calls us to come closer to his throne. As we enter his presence, we will hear the splendor of everyone everywhere praising Yahweh. Through him, we will witness the great awakening and revival in this world as we children rejoice in your greatness.
 - Bless ye the Lord, those who know you, that their lives will bless the Lord; that we carry the anointing that only comes from a relationship to you; that generations to come will be blessed forever because a hand of the Lord is on us. We praise you because you have breathed the breath of life in us. There will be people that will reject you, but we will give you praise and surrender our lives to give you glory in all that we do. God is the king over the whole earth. The ones who walk in that truth will be blessed, for the whole earth to see. We have been blessed because we have the ability through the Holy Spirit to hear from You. You are a light to our path. People will see the truth and will praise our Father, Yahweh. Everyone everywhere will praise your Holy name. Through him, we will walk in victory.
 - Lord, we bless you and your holy name on high. We ask that the outpouring and overflow of our lives will bless you without measure. Those who live to praise you, will be blessed forever. God, we declare from the rooftops, that you are the king of the whole earth, that out of your goodness you will reply by blessing the whole earth. Lord, how can we who hear from You, fail to praise you? Indeed, may everyone everywhere never cease to praise Yahweh, that our lives in him, be light and life to the whole world. In Jesus name.
 - Lord, we shout aloud from the mountaintop and from the valley, “Bless ye the Lord”. And we pray that our lives would bless the Lord in everything we do and in every part of our lives. As your children, we are blessed forever, and we choose to praise the Lord. God is king over the whole earth, and we declare with our voices “Hosanna” to ring throughout the earth and throughout the heavens. As we praise and serve and worship our Father, we know the Lord would bless the whole earth. We seek you, Lord, to hear your voice, and in hearing from God, we vow to pray as you speak, and we determine that we will follow where you lead us. Let everyone everywhere praise Yahweh, and in the midst of this praise, may the earth quake at the sound and roar of our worship. Through him, we will resound His name throughout the earth! In Jesus name, Amen.
