- “My Jesus” Chronicles:

- Lord, we do pray for Kelly, Sue, Dwayne, Jeff, and for all the intercessors here, Lord: for Jackie, for Star, and for the Chatham family. The Lord is my refuge, and there he'll bring victory. As we pause in His presence, we will consider the truth of this, that he heard me as we magnify the Lord. Thank you, Lord, that you have lifted these from the gates of death. We, as a house of prayer, declare your deeds tonight. We declare your wonderful deeds of all the things that we've seen you do. You have not forsaken us, and we will continue to put our trust in thee.
- Lord, we will put our trust in thee, as we look to you for healing of our people because you have not forsaken them. We will see all of them lifted from the gates of death. Tonight, we declare his deeds for all those who are sick; that they will live and do the work of the Lord. As we stand in the sanctuary, we will magnify the Lord as his glory falls upon those who are sick. Thank you, Father, because you've heard our prayers. I hear the Lord say, “Consider the truth of this word and do not waiver; pause in my presence. You who are hurting in your body, watch me, your Father, miraculously do a mighty work for you.” Loudly, we proclaim victory in this place because the Lord is our refuge and the healer of all of those who are sick. In Jesus name.
- Lord, we do put our trust in you. We have no doubt that you have not, nor will you forsake your people. We declare your mighty deeds from the rooftops. How well able are you to lift all these mentioned tonight from the gates of death. We magnify you, Lord, in times like these. We are comforted by the knowledge that you hear our cries for your mercy. All those that have ears to hear consider the truth of this declaration. Pause in his presence and be amazed at our Jesus. He rides in and out of every circumstance and complete victory. That is why we declare, “He is our refuge and our strength, our God, in whom we trust.”
- Lord, from our earthly home, we declare as a House of Prayer, that we will put our trust in thee as we hold up the arms of Kelly, Sue, Dwayne, and Jeff. You have not forsaken them as the sustainer of life; and you have not forsaken us as intercessors and prayer warriors. Your word tells us to “declare his deeds”; so, we declare your intentional deed of supernatural and miraculous intervention of life and healing over these precious people. We declare that Kelly Sue, Dwayne, and Jeff are lifted from the gates of death as we magnify the Lord on their behalf. We say that “he heard me” because we know that he will consider the truth of this time of intercession as we pause in his presence. My Jesus, my Jesus, we cry out to you to manifest and make evident the victory for Kelly, Sue, Dwayne, and Jeff. We speak in faith on behalf of these people that the Lord is my refuge “as they wait on you to arise, oh Lord, with their miraculous healing in your hand.” And we say yes and amen.
