- “Trust in His Unfailing Love” Chronicles:

- Lord, to me, you have your part and I have my part. So, our part is to believe, to awaken from our sleep, to worship, to break down barriers, to watch his hand move. For it's time to pray and trust. Pray—know that you know that you have a Savior. Call on him—that's our part. His part is to show us the path of life, to breathe life into our spirits. His hand will move for he is the resurrection and the life. He did that for you to bring life to you and he will answer and all this because he's writing a new song for New Life.
- Father God, as we come together tonight in this holy place, you will show us the path of life for all that are on their sick beds. I believe and I declare that you, Jehovah, are our healer and will bring breathe life into my spirit and all those battling infirmities during this time. We shout into the spiritual realm, “Awaken, awaken from your sleep and rise up Kelly and Jeff, because you still have much life to live. On Sunday in the sanctuary, we will break down all barriers and worship and watch the hand of our mighty God move. During this season, we decree it is time to pray and to trust our Father as his glory fills this place. Kelly and Jeff will witness resurrection power and live because prayer brings both. We stand in the gap for the two of you and we declare, “He did it for you and you will strongly proclaim He is your Savior.” Write a new song, my children, as you rejoice in your healing. Lord, we are here in a place called New Life, and it is only fitting that we declare New Life for Kelly and Jeff. Amen.
- Lord God, show us the path of life that you have created for each of us. We believe that your strength breathes life into our spirits. May the same spirit awaken all this sleep. May it break down the barriers and bring worship as we watch his hand move. It is time for people to pray and trust for He is truly the resurrection and the life. And to pray fully trusting in him brings forth new life. Grab hold of all that he has done because he has done it for us; and we know that we have a Savior and with our lives, he is writing a new song. In Jesus name.
- I praise you tonight, Lord, because you have promised in your word that thou will show me the path of life. I believe your word with all my heart, and I am asking you to breathe life into my spirit. I hear your voice speaking tonight as you call out to me, “Awaken from your sleep; break down the barriers and worship!” Your spirit continually reminds me, “Watch his hand move” as you release a call from deep within me that it's time to pray and trust. Jesus is speaking tonight to say, “I am the resurrection and the life,” so I receive your life and your breath to ignite a fire in me to burn out the old and light up the new. To pray brings life, so I release my gift of intercession to trust, to pray and to believe, as I shout from the valley and from the mountain, "He did it for you, and He will do it for me!" I know that I have a Savior who loves me beyond life as he is writing a new song with every minute of life He has given me to live. I pray and declare this in Jesus' name, amen.

- Dan Hanselman's Prophetic Word: So, there is a storm coming, but as you follow me, says the Lord, you will not lose anything. You will be full of my life to give to others. So, rise up, rise up out of the depression of what the enemies have thrown on you. For the joy of the Lord is your strength, and I am calling you to a new worship, a new worship that has never been before. For him the worship you will break through, you will break through the barriers that the enemy has set. For the time is now to worship me. Get your eyes on me and not on the circumstances. You will see life coming forth, even though this is fall and as the latter rains come and knock off the leaves of the tree, to bare the tree. You will see things that I am doing in a person's life, and you will see things in you that I want to change. For the time of hiding is over. I am removing covers and bringing the light to those areas that are in need of healing, in need of healing. For I am one that will bring strength. I am the one that will not condemn but bring life. I breathe on you this night, so watch and feel my breath come upon you and breathe deep on you and see what comes in you. For the time is short and a time is now to release the giftings within you. Do not hold them back any longer. For I have placed them in you to build up the body; to strengthen the body; to set the body free and bring in the harvest. The gifts are important, but you have to spend time with me so that they blossom as I would have them to blossom. They are for you. They are for others. So, step out of self and step into me and let me work through your gifting. And bring life in, so that a new day is coming. New life is rising up. Do not trample, but dance. Do not trip and fall for I have given you wings on your feet so that you can soar with the best of them. And I have given you eyes as eagles to see beyond. So, open your eyes, open your eyes, and see as I see and watch my hand move in a mighty powerful way says the Lord. Amen.
